About the charity

RAINBOW MIGRATION is based in the UK. They provide practical, emotional, and legal support to LGBTQI+ migrants seeking asylum, and campaign for a fairer asylum and immigration system.

https://www.rainbowmigration.org.uk/

This charity zine is a gesture of goodwill and solidarity from the Hetalia fandom to those affected by cruel border regimes and the unfair treatment of migrants and LGBT+ people. Hetalia media deals with themes of nation-states and war, and while we explore these issues, it's appropriate to make a positive gesture towards those actually affected by the border regimes that stem from political ideas of the "nation."

A football-themed zine is appropriate for the fandom, sports events are one of the most obvious ways national identity is expressed. But making one prompted a World Cup clouded by exceptional controversy, specifically about the harmful treatment of migrant workers and LGBT+ people, cannot be accomplished without acknowledging this. Not to say this is a uniquely problematic World Cup, but ultiamtely, there are problems with the football industry in general -- and to relate these problems to those described above, this appears to me to be a case of how life and safety of vulnerable people can be expended for the sake of the ostensible good of asserting national identity.

Thank you for buying this zine and supporting this cause. I hope you find some joy in the pure talent of this fandom's incredible artists featured within.

I'm a graphic design student who is passionate about creating art based on feelin gs and things that make me happy so I can transmit that to people too.

This zine was a good opportunity to know other talented artists and get to be known in the Hetalia fandom. Canada has always been my favorite character, and I couldn't miss the chance to draw him.

Asha

Website: https://greebeeb.my.canva.site

Hello!! My name is Asha, and I'm a 22 year old illustrator from Ireland.

I've never been a big football fan despite the culture in my country having a big focus surrounding it. I usually just like to see communities brought together by the game, which is why I participated in this zine!

Hope you enjoy it!

I'm a writer and illustrator who has been in the hetalia fandom since 2012, and regretfully, I am a supporter of the England football team. I also am the organizer of this zine! I can't describe the pure joy putting this zine together has been. I'm so grateful for each artist who has volunteered their labour and talent to this zine, and I'm grateful for anyone buying this zine. What a great experience of fandom positivity this project has been!

Hi Hi I'm Corvus!! I've been in the fandom ~11 years and vividly remember the pure joy old fifatalia amvs brought me. I hope this zine can help recreate some of that joy!!

I choose to draw Denmark because Terkel I Knibe is my favourite movie and I think it was robbed of a Oscar for best foreign film. In all seriousness, I really enjoyed working on this zine and seeing other talented artists processes n relations to football. I hope YOU, the person who bought this, enjoys it as much as me :)

I'm just an artist and fan of hetalia who is 21 yo and really happy to have been able to contribute a little to this great project! Thank you for this unique opportunity!

When I got to be part of this project I was so excited! This sport is really cool, and even though I have never been an expert, it has brought me moments of tension and big emotions. I have also never participated in a zine before, but I really enjoyed being part of this project. This zine is full of amazing artists, and I did my best to contribute with my grain of salt. I am a random digital artist, and I can't think of something remarkable about myself, just that I am really happy to be here!

Peonycats was last seen wandering the North American wilderness, all denizens are recommended to stay at least 50 feet away. Should you find yourself within its presence, the authorities recommend you throw a well-written historical nonfiction book at its head to buy you enough time to flee. Peonycats has also been sighted drawing and writing in its free time, but was too frazzled to write a more compelling self-description.

I love how this whole zine turned out! I'm proud to be a contributer to this zine as well as supporting our charity that uplifts LGBT+ migrants. To whoever is reading: Have a nice day!

Lifelong lurker, I am glad I got to partake in such a great experience. Hetalia has this unique way of allowing its fans to truly connect with their favorite characters, and it was incredibly interesting to discover how everyone involved saw the Nations and personalised their pieces. These worldwide events are great for bringing people together, and creating with so many great artists, for such a great cause, was truly amazing.

Eva

Instagram: poxtra

My name is Eva, I'm 22, and I'm currently a student studying Public Relations, German Studies, and History. I'm a hobbyist who draws in their free time, and I've been a fan of Hetalia since 2015. My dad, a German immigrant, and I have watched the World Cup for as long as I can remember, cheering for Germany all the way. Naturally, I couldn't help but to draw Ludwig for this project. It felt special connecting my culture into something I grew up enjoying. This Zine was such a wonderful opportunity. I love seeing artists come together as a community to create something we can all be proud of and enjoy! Everyone here is so skilled and talented. I'm grateful for this experience, and for contributing my work for this cause. Thank you so much!

I used to be in the fandom since 2014 but have chosen to begin to separate myself from it. I still dabble in it due to friendships, but I do not consider myself "a part" of the overall fandom.

This is actually my first zine project, it was nice seeing a few friends on this project. I hope this project earns good money for the charity and thank you to the organizer for letting me participate.

The only sport I'm marginally interested in is baseball, but since I played soccer for two years as a kid and got one medal just for showing up, I believe I'm the superior authority on the Australian soccer team now. As such, I decided to add some features from some traditional Aboriginal art styles, including the use of the concentric circles and tracks to represent the many places that people come from to connect, celebrate and play in this particular event. I enjoy including pieces of my Indigeneity into these sorts of opportunities to represent my own country in some way.

Ken

It was a great chance to join a collaborative effort with the community. The fun thing about hetalia is how diverse these zine projects can be, while still being true to the main appeal of the manga. I love working with all these great artists and I hope to do it again :)

Hey! I'm a digital character and comic artist with a love for coloring and character design! I had so much fun working on this zine because the two pieces I got to make let me experiment with two new art styles I haven't used before. I'm so happy with this way this project turned out, all of the contributors did an amazing job!
